I am all in for tackling tough problems with smart people!

I am a UX/UI designer.

My professional career helped me hone my skills in time management, organization, communication, and analytical thinking—all of which seamlessly integrate into my design process today. I wanted passion and excitement, which UX design has since ignited within me. My creativity, vision, and talent will ensure that I am a unique and valuable partner on any project. I have thoroughly enjoyed learning UX and UI design thus far and eagerly anticipate the adventures that lie ahead.
